SEND Harmonization for Cross-Study Analysis

- NEW MANUSCRIPT ALERT! The first manuscript co-authored with the FDA under the Public-Private Partnership has been published online in the Regulatory Toxicology and Pharmacology Journal. The article, "SEND Harmonization & Cross-Study Analysis: A Proposal to Better Harvest the Value from SEND Data," highlights the potential of SEND datasets for cross-study analysis and the challenges of doing so currently. Access the article online here: Regulatory Toxicology and Pharmacology.
- BioCelerate featured in Applied Clinical Trials—The article, "Unleashing New Insights from Toxicology Studies," highlights the history and evolution of SEND and the future potential of using SEND datasets for cross-study analysis.
- Meet the team and check out our SOT poster (#P2030) in the Exhibit Hall on Tues. March 17 from 9:00AM -10:45AM PST. This poster shares important work the team is doing in developing proposed model search scripts to more easily extract information from SEND datasets, facilitating better cross study analysis in preclinical toxicology studies.
